Earthquake Shakes Nevada, California Areas

Most Serious Damage Caused
At Fallon, Nev.

FALLON, Nev. (AP) — An earthquake felt in a 150,000 square mile area of two Western states toppled walls, broke two roads and several water mains and injured at least eight persons here early today.

At 4:14 a. m. the main shock struck, jolting this small farming community severely. It was followed by three aftershocks, and was felt throughout western Nevada and northern California.

All of the injured here were sailors sleeping at the nearby Fallon Air Station, where metal lockers toppled over onto bunks after the main shock struck at 4:14 a. m. All were treated at the base hospital, where it was reported one sailor suffered a fractured leg and the other a foot fracture.

The quake toppled walls of downtown buildings, buckled at least two paved highways, cracked ceilings and walls and emptied shelves.

Buildings Damaged Downtown

At least 25 buildings in the west portion of the city were cracked and in some places water was seeping upward from cracked mains.

Two major dirt irrigation canals were broken north and south of the city. At least one field was covered with six to eight inches of water.

The Coleman Dam, a dirt-fill diversion dam on the nearby Carson River was knocked out by the quake. The impact caused the structure to crack and water pouring through the breaks soon tore out the dam.

The quake rocked western Nevada at 4:14 a. m. and was followed by three aftershocks. It was felt throughout western Nevada and northern California.

Undersheriff Ralph Rice reported a preliminary survey indicated widespread damage in the city, a farm center with a population of approximately 4,000. No estimate of the amount of damage was available immediately.

Rice said a brick fire wall of the Western Hotel had toppled into the street. Another brick fire wall of the Bank Club, a gambling casino, also fell into the street and a portion of an upper story wall toppled into an adjacent dress shop, caving it in.

Highway Drops 12 Inches

The undersheriff reported a 20-foot section of U. S. Highway 50 "dropped about a foot" 4 1/2 miles east of the city.

Numerous chimneys were toppled, walls in homes and shops were cracked and merchandise

Funeral Services Held Monday For Norval Rose

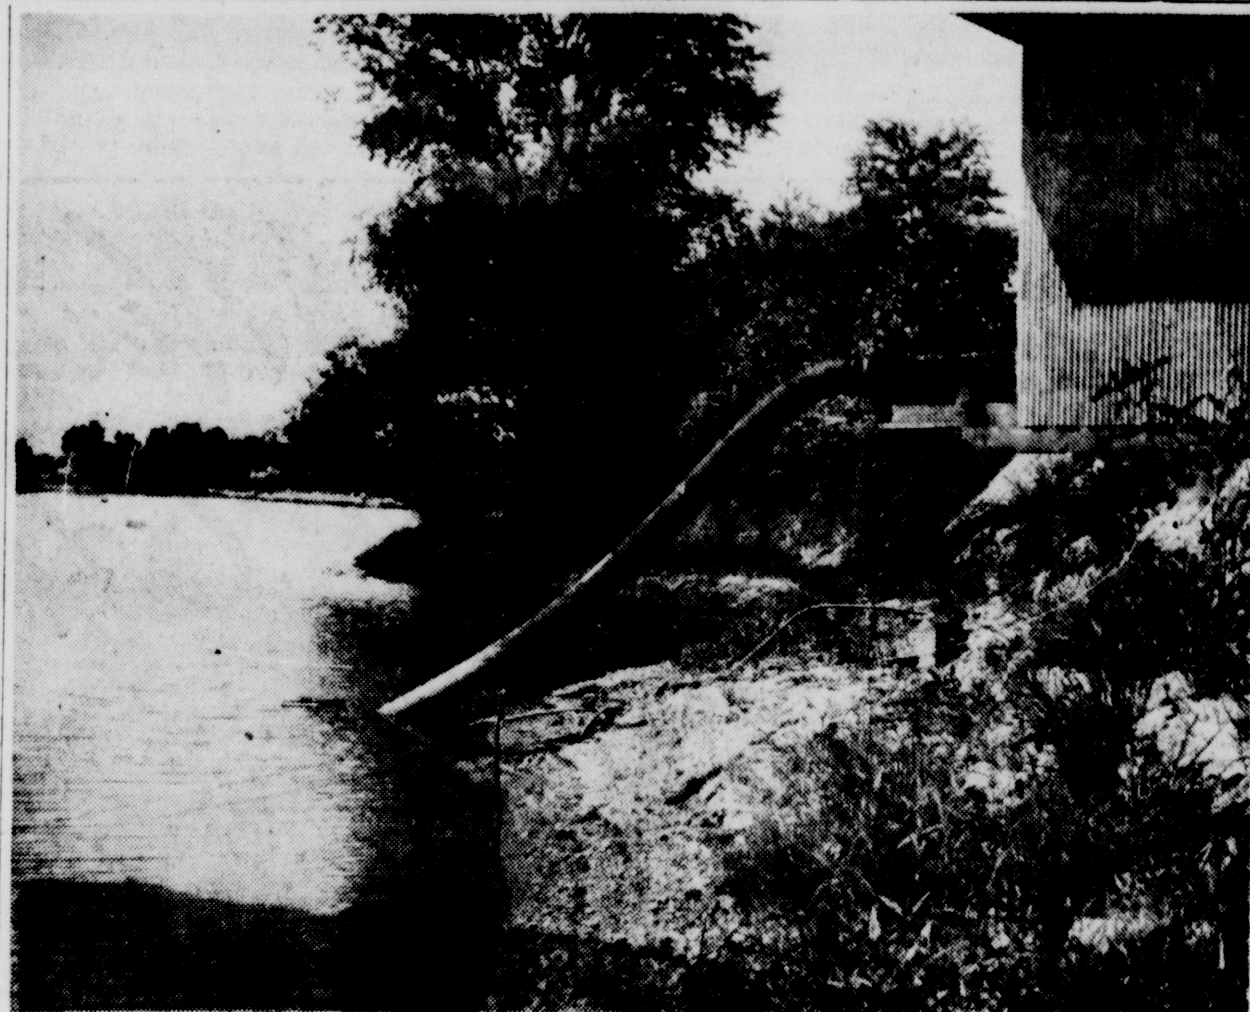

The funeral of Norval Rose, 49, of McCormick, who was killed in a highway accident on U. S. 45 between Champaign and Tuscola, was held Monday at 2 p. m. at Zion church, near Stonefort. The Rev. Herbert Little, Eldorado, conducted the service and burial was at Zion cemetery.

Jimmy Galbreath, 29, Brookport, a former resident of Thompsonville, who was accompanying Mr. Rose, died Sunday at 3 a. m. of injuries received in the Friday crash. His body was taken to the Mitchell funeral home at Thompsonville and his funeral was held today at 2 p. m.

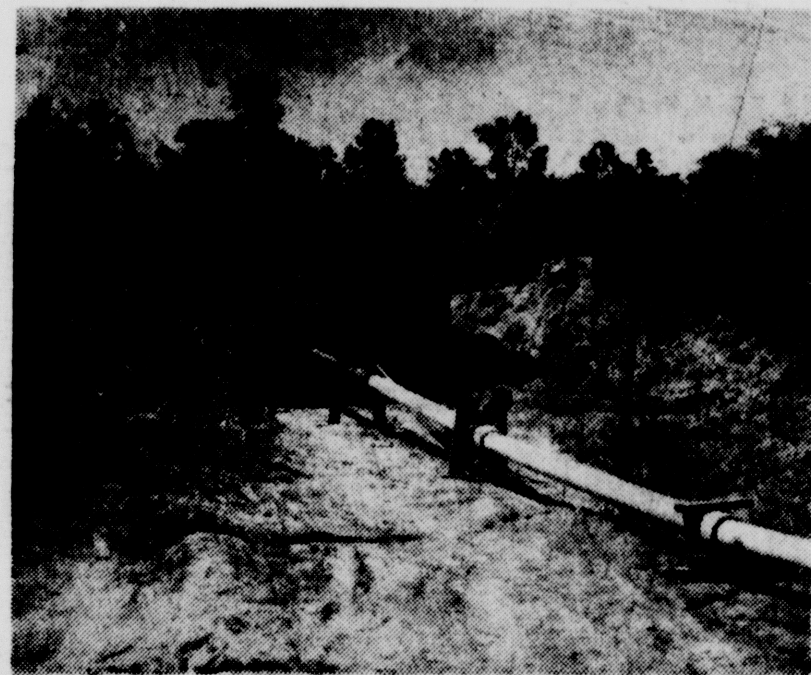

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner's jury investigating his death, and evidence was presented to indicate that he had fallen asleep while driving his automobile. He was en route to McCormick from Waukegan, where he resided while employed as a contractor on a housing project at Elgin.

Prior to that he was employed at the government hospital at Downing, and before going to the north part of the state he drove a bus for the Harrisburg-Dorrville bus line. At that time he and his family resided at the corner of Raymond and Granger street, and his children, except the youngest daughter, Phyllis, attended and graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school. The other three children are Billy Rose, Waukegan, Mrs. Helen Gebro, Elgin, and Mrs. Betty Brown, Waukegan. Their mother is the former Julia Baker and is a sister of Mrs. Herbert McSparrin and Mrs. Paul McSparrin of Carrier Mills.

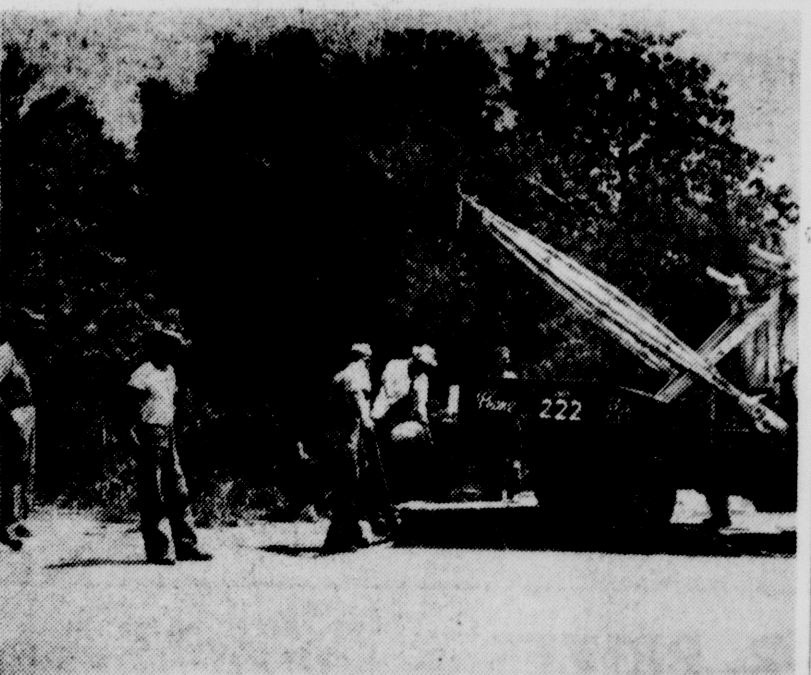

Besides his wife and children, Mr. Rose leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Rose, New Burnside, and four brothers, Joyce Rose, New Burnside, Gene and Clarence Rose, Manteno, and Ado Rose, McCormick.

HARRISBURG'S WATER SUPPLY is diminishing, with the drought increasing demands for moisture, and a look at the light mud on the intake hose above shows that Blue Lake, as well as the city reservoir, has dropped in recent weeks.

THIS IS THE BLUE LAKE pumping station, in case you haven't seen it, with the temporary pipeline from the emergency supply shown at the start of its trail toward town. Inside of this building is a huge pump that pulls the water from the lake.

THE PUMPING FACILITIES have been inadequate at Sloan street to send enough Blue Lake water into the city system and between 300,000 and 400,000 gallons of reservoir water have been supplementing that coming in from Blue Lake. The above photo shows a huge pumping unit being removed from this emergency station. It was to be replaced by a more adequate pump. (All Daily Register Staff Photos)

City Council Appeals to Public to Restrict Use of Diminishing Water

The Harrisburg city council today discussed the diminishing city water supply and traffic problems within the city.

The council made a plea to the public to use as little water as possible.

"It's the public's own water they are using," one member said. "We don't like to put restrictions on water any more than people like to have them put on, but with the water supply going down, it's for the public's own good to be saving with water at all times."

The plea was made especially to persons who sprinkle late in the evening.

The Lake Harrisburg situation still has a few hitches, Atty. D. F. Runney pointed out, declaring he is working with several persons with whom the city has options for lake sites who want rights and concessions the city cannot give them.

Given final passage was the bond delivery ordinance, which provides for the delivery of $200,000 in bonds to Barcus-Kindred Co. in Chicago for funds to build the lake and improve the system.

After discussing traffic the council voted to put up stop signs on Church street at Vine and to eliminate parking on the north side of Church street between Webster and Jackson. Both these restrictions had been asked by persons in the area.

Given first reading this morning was the annual appropriation ordinance of the city. It will lay over for a final vote at the next meeting.

Charged with Driving Car with License Revoked

Joe Quick of Eldorado today was charged with driving his auto with his driver's license revoked, in a county court information. He was arrested by state police.

Europe Hungry For Religion: Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham, the American evangelist who preached to 2 1/2 million persons on a five-month European tour, said on his return today that he felt "the golden hour of the church" is at hand.

"I can't express the feeling of hunger for God that I found," he said. "I feel that a spiritual awakening might save us from a third world war."

It was Graham's eighth European visit. This time, he said, there was an optimistic note in Western Europe that he never had felt before.

"I think part of it is the spiritual awakening and the feeling that peace is here for a while, anyway," he said.

"The closer we got to the Iron Curtain, the less fear we found of the people for Russia, and the greater hunger for religion. In Finland, they were just like sponges, drinking up anything about God. Secret Red Meetings

"We heard wonderful stories of secret religious meetings in Russia, and we were told in Sweden, Finland, and Germany that if there was freedom in Russia today there would be the greatest spiritual revival in history in that country."

Graham believed he and his group helped offset the impression held by some Europeans that the United States is a country of cowboys, sexy movies, and gangsters.

The Baptist evangelist took his "Crusade for Christ" to Britain, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Holland, Germany and France. The enthusiasm and attendance, he said, "far exceeded anything I had ever dreamed of."

After he preached to 80,000 persons at a Berlin meeting, he said, between 20,000 and 25,000 responded to his call to join the church. He estimated that one-third of that audience had come from East Berlin.

Has Been Ill

Graham, who is 35, has been ill. He had five attacks of a kidney ailment during the trip. Although he lost 20 pounds, he said he now feels fine. He said his father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell, Asheville, N. C., will examine him in consultation with other physicians to decide whether an operation is necessary.

His wife, Ruth, and three of his four children met him at the pier when he arrived on the liner Queen Mary.

Graham plans to go to Washington Thursday for a private address before 120 congressmen.

Seek Divine Guidance, New Elks' Grand Exalted Ruler Urges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William J. Jernick, the new grand exalted ruler of the Elks, urged the free world to seek "divine guidance" in its fight against communism.

The 53-year-old former mayor of Nutley, N. J., told 3,500 Elks in his acceptance speech at the 90th grand lodge convention Monday that the best way to fight communism is through prayer.

Eugene Schnierle, treasurer of the Illinois Elks Ass'n. and member of the Harrisburg lodge, is representing the local lodge as delegate to the convention.

Co-Operative Takes Over Woolcott Mill

Operate Under Lease with Option to Buy

The Saline County Farmers Co-operative Co. last week took over the operation of the Woolcott Milling Co. on a lease with option to buy and immediately started buying of wheat.

Employed by the co-operative board of directors as manager was Ray Hamilton, a native of Hamilton county who had been living in Decatur. Mr. Hamilton has had 14 years experience with feed mills and elevators. The co-operative's board is composed of A. L. Smith, president, Paul Endicott, John Endsley and George Myers Sr.

Hamilton stated that the mill is being operated under the lease with an option to buy within six months and that wheat has been coming in better than expected. There is a market for all wheat that is being brought in.

The co-operative, he said, will buy from and sell to anybody, not being confined to its stockholders. It will buy and sell all grains and soybeans and deal in the retail sale of feeds, seeds and fertilizers. The faultless line of feeds will be handled, he stated.

Renew Drive to Sell Stock

Hamilton is renewing a drive to sell sufficient stock to make the purchase, pointed out what an asset a successful venture at the mill would be to the community.

"It means a lot of money being brought into the community and I believe the business men should realize it is as important to them as to the farmers themselves," he stated.

He said that although he is just an employee, he hoped that no effort would be made to over-expand the venture.

"If the co-operative stays in the right groove, it will do more than well in Harrisburg," he stated. "I mean by that it shouldn't try to expand beyond its capabilities, such as going into milling and soybean processing."

Boys Throw Rocks at Wrong Auto; Fined

The wrong car was thrown at early today and it resulted in six fines of $16.40.

It was the city police car, and the boys, ranging from 14 to 17 years old, were ordered to report to the city hall at 8 a. m. today, where all pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and were fined.

Chief of Police Loren Travelstead said the police had received a previous complaint about rocks being thrown at automobiles at night in the vicinity of the cemetery but the police could find no body upon investigation.

Last night, however, things were different. Night police were looking on West Sloan street adjacent to the cemetery when rocks flew in their direction. This was at 12:15 a. m.

The boys were rounded up and ordered to report this morning. They did.

First of Assessment Lists Published Today

The Daily Register is today publishing the first of the township personal property and real estate assessment lists for Saline county. Others will appear from time to time as the assessors complete their books, with some of the lists to appear in other Saline county newspapers.

The list is being published by Paul Hilliard, county treasurer and collector, and ex-officio supervisor of assessments. After the lists are published, the taxpayers are privileged to appeal to the Board of Review, first floor of court house, in event they consider assessments unfair, or if the property is not correctly listed.

The amount of assessment listed IS NOT the amount of taxes due, nor is it the final assessment figure. In order to equalize assessments in various counties of the state, the Illinois Department of Revenue furnishes a figure by which assessments turned in by assessors are multiplied to get the final figure.

Saline county's multiplier last year was 5.5536. Thus property which was assessed last year at $1000 would be extended as $5,553.60. Other county multipliers vary. In Hamilton county, for instance, the multiplier was 7.6923, on the basis that property there is not turned in by assessors as high as in Saline county, but by using the multiplier, the property would be assessed on about the same basis as here.

The assessment this year includes real estate which is assessed every four years, and ordinarily would not have been assessed until 1955. However, the four-year period did not fall in the same year for all counties in Illinois, and all are assessing this year to make the real estate assessment years the same.

On the basis of assessments this year, taxes will be paid in 1955. The amount of taxes is finally determined by totaling the levies to be made in September by various taxing bodies, including the county, cities and villages, townships, school districts, etc.

House Group Criticizes Clark for Past Irregularities in Justice Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee reported a "strong inference" today that Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark was responsible for past irregularities at the Justice Department.

It said its stormy investigation of the department last year produced "no conclusive evidence of wrongdoing" on the part of the former attorney general.

But it said Clark's decision "to withhold his cooperation" during the investigation left "the strong inference that he was responsible for some of the conditions the subcommittee has found most worthy of criticism." The subcommittee referred here to Clark's refusal to testify.

The now-extinct subcommittee, headed by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), criticized Clark and other officials of the Truman administration in a 135-page report on seven cases it investigated during the Justice inquiry.

Rep. Byron R. Rogers (D-Colo.)

filed five separate dissenting opinions charging the report was slanted and biased and that it sought to "second guess" officials of the former administration.

Specifically, the subcommittee majority charged that: 1. Clark and his "protégé"—former assistant attorney general T. Lamar Caudle—were "weak spots" in law enforcement and appeared to be "another avenue of appeal for prominent people" in trouble with the government.

2. Peyton Ford, one-time deputy attorney general, engaged in a "rank abuse of the power of his office" in arranging a tax case settlement. Also, he tried to influence a federal judge in a "shocking abuse of personal friendship."

3. Francis P. Whitehair, a former Navy official, and James L. Fly, FCC chairman, showed "gross impropriety" in making a "thinly veiled threat" of a Senate investigation unless Clark dropped a suit against their private client.

Ouster of Diplomats Irritates Relations by U. S. and Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's relations with Russia took a sinister new turn today following the expulsion of three Soviet diplomats for "espionage and improper activities" and the retaliatory ouster of two U. S. officials in Moscow.

Authorities said the incident demonstrates the constant need for vigilance against Red agents in this country. They reported that the evidence of spying was "conclusive — we got the goods on them and out they went."

The State Department disclosed the ouster moves late Monday at an unusual holiday news conference. The action, only the third or fourth of its kind in the 21-year history of U. S.-Soviet relations, added a new irritation to the already ragged feelings between the two great powers.

Ordered Out "Immediately"

The department said Russia on Saturday demanded the "immediate departure" of two U. S. Embassy officials in Moscow for allegedly carrying on "espionage work." They are Lt. Col. Howard L. Felchlin of New York, assistant military attaché, and Maj. Walter McKinney of Santa Cruz, Calif., assistant air attaché.

The United States flatly denied the charges in a diplomatic note Sunday, and, in its announcement Monday, the State Department charged that the action was merely "in retaliation" for the earlier expulsion of the three Soviet diplomats.

It then reported for the first time that Cmdr. Igor A. Amosov, assistant naval attaché at the Soviet Embassy here, was expelled Feb. 8; Alexander P. Kovlyov, secretary of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, was ousted Feb. 10; and Lt. Col. Leonid E. Pinev, assistant air attaché here, left for Moscow June 6. All were declared personally unacceptable because of their "espionage" activities.

The department said it had kept the expulsions secret until Monday in the vain hope the Kremlin would not retaliate against Americans in Moscow. Officials said that by retaliating the Russians apparently are trying to discourage the United States from expelling other spies.

Woman Dozes At Wheel and Misses a Lot

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Beulah Klunk, 59, climbed out of her wrecked car, yawned, and asked what in the world had happened. It turned out she'd missed quite a lot.

Mrs. Klunk dozed off at the wheel as she drove home from her night nurses job at an Elgin, Ill., hospital Monday.

Her car jumped the curb and started up the sidewalk. At an intersection the auto plowed through a utility pole, taking a 12-foot section and leaving the rest dangling from wires. It bent a street-name sign pole, crossed an intersection, and knocked a limb from a tree.

The car then proceeded 150 feet up the sidewalk and made a left hand turn into a doctor's yard, where it clobbered a 25-foot evergreen tree and carried it 50 feet. It then charged into a house next door, taking lattice and supports from a 12-foot section of the porch, and finally came to a stop 20 feet away in a grape arbor and a bed of hollyhocks.

Mrs. Klunk got out of the car, yawned and calmly inquired about what had happened.

She was examined and found to have suffered only a slight scratch and a few bruises.

A doctor said she didn't even suffer from shock, probably because she had slept so soundly.

Hake Arraigned For Counterfeiting

Elmer Arthur Hake, 66, held in the Saline county jail, was moved to East St. Louis Saturday afternoon for arraignment before a U. S. Commissioner on a federal charge of counterfeiting.

Hake is charged with passing counterfeit obligations and with having control and possession of plates from which they were printed, in a federal complaint signed by Elliott Thacker, U. S. Secret Service agent.

Hake, from Nashville, Ill., was picked up at Okawville last week by agents as he was returning to his home and was brought here.

He was taken to East St. Louis by U. S. Deputy Marshal John Small of Harrisburg.

Extra Caution Pays Off; 324 Die in Traffic

603 Accidental
Deaths Include Only
Four by Fireworks

By United Press

Extra caution on the highways paid off today in one of the safest and sanest July 4 holidays in many years.

The National Safety Council credited the nation's motorists with saving about 100 lives during the three-day holiday period.

The final tabulation of a United Press survey from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday showed 603 persons killed in accidents. Of these 324 died in traffic, 174 drowned, 10 were killed in plane crashes, 91 in miscellaneous accidents and 4 in fireworks mishaps.

Deaths from injuries received in automobile accidents were expected to boost the final total of highway victims.

The fireworks deaths included a boy killed at Augusta, Me., when his homemade flare exploded, a girl killed at Harvey, Ill., by a skyrocket from a supervised display, a boy killed at Ebersburg, Pa., when he tossed a firecracker into an "empty" gasoline drum, and a boy killed at Pelican Rapids, Minn., when a skyrocket hit a gas drum.

The council had estimated that traffic deaths would kill 430 persons. Despite heavy travel, with an estimated 40 million cars on the move during the period, the actual toll fell far below the estimate.

Michigan reported the highest number of traffic fatalities, 31. California was next with 29. Ohio had 23, Texas 21, Illinois eight, and New York state six. Utah had no accidental deaths of any kind.

The holiday traffic toll, although far lower than expectations, was higher than the "normal" toll for a non-holiday summer weekend. A sample study of a three-day period in August, 1948, showed 224 traffic deaths, 48 drownings, and 111 miscellaneous deaths for a total of 383.

Ned H. Dearborn, Council president, said "It looks as if the nation's drivers have held down the toll to approximately 100 below the pre-holiday estimate."

It was the fourth straight year that Independence holiday motorists have held the traffic toll below the Safety Council's estimate.

17 ILLINOIS FATALITIES; 8 IN TRAFFIC; 6 DROWNINGS; FIREFWORKS KILL ONE

Illinois ranked low among the states in the nationwide traffic death toll during the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

There were eight traffic deaths, six drownings, one death by fireworks and two by lightning for a total of 17 fatalities in the state.

Norval Rose, 49, of Waukegan, died in an auto accident near Tuscola, Ill. James Galbreath Jr., 20, of North Chicago, died in a Tuscola hospital after an auto accident near there. A Norris, Ill., man, Fred Grubisch, 58, died in an auto accident near Canton, Ill. Arvid Detienne, 17, of Zion, Ill., was killed on a motorcycle near Waukegan.

Other traffic victims, all of Chicago, were: Mrs. Mattie Jimmerman, 24, who died near Lincoln, Ill.; Albert Petty, 6, at Chicago; Theodore Richards, 42, at Chicago; John G. Condie, 36, near Half Day, Ill.

Drownings included: Marvin Hodge, 18, of Stonington, Ill., at Decatur, Ill.; Clarence Yancey, Philadelphia, Ill., near Bath, Ill.; Henry Rowe Jr., Rock Island, Ill., in Hennepin Canal. Two Chicago residents who drowned were: Mitsuro Yamauchi, 24, near Bath, Ill., and Charles Stone, 22, in Lake Michigan.

Dottie Alridge, 9, of McNabb, Ill., drowned in a restricted area close to a dam in Starved Rock State Park.

Carol Hayward, 12, of Harvey, Ill., died in a fireworks mishap in her home town. Charles E. Welch, Ellisville, Ill., died when struck by lightning on his farm there. Jose Munoz, 40, of Dundee, Ill., also was a victim of lightning.

Southern Illinois apparently rolled up a perfect record over the holiday weekend with no accidental deaths reported south of Tuscola. State police in the area investigated a number of accidents but reported no highway fatalities.

In contrast, the Memorial Day weekend death toll on southern Illinois highways was 10.

Rites at Shawneetown For Oliver Seely

Funeral services were held today for Oliver Seely, 61, veteran of World War I, who died at the Veterans hospital in Marion Sunday morning. He resided at old Shawneetown and his funeral was held in the Methodist church there this afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Edward Minor and burial was at Westwood cemetery.

2,000 Atrocity Suspects Jailed In Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala
(U.P.)—More than 2,000 persons suspected of pro-Communist political atrocities filled Guatemala's prisons and jails today. Each was promised a fair hearing.

The new military junta said the roundup of suspects was continuing even though jail cells no longer were available.

"We shall produce drastically and rapidly quick and efficient justice," the ruling military junta announced.

El Salvador, a neighboring republic, formally recognized the new regime and Col. Elfigo Monzon, temporary president of Guatemala, said he was told recognition from Great Britain and Costa Rica would be forthcoming soon.

Monzon indicated the new government wanted friendly relations with all free governments but no longer will conduct business with Communist or Communist controlled countries. He specifically exempted Yugoslavia because "it appears they also follow democratic precepts."

To Protect Foreign Investors

In other action, the junta said:
1. Guatemala is considering a renewal of relationship with Spain in line with the United States and other Western democracies.

2. Guatemala will back and cooperate with the United Nations and the Organization of American States, which it is now willing to join.

3. Guatemala will sign an anti-Communist resolution which the ousted regime of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman opposed at the recent Caracas Conference of Inter-American Foreign Ministers. The junta said Arbenz' regime took action at Caracas "against the sentiments all Guatemalans feel."

4. The new government will suspend expropriation of foreign-owned or operated lands such as those of United Fruit Co., pending a study of the problem in drawing up a new constitution.

5. All foreign investors' rights will be protected.

DREW PEARSON Says: Republican National Committee
Almost Chokes On Patronage
Plum: White House Violates Treaty With Canada — And Still Violates It: Eight-Year-Old Granddaughter Sits On Floor Of Congress.

WASHINGTON. — Juiciest nesting place in the Federal government is generally considered the International Joint Commission which handles waterway problems between Canada and the United States; also the International Boundary Commission between Canada and the United States.

Duties are not arduous, the boundary isn't bothered by wars, members of the commissions draw $10,000 a year, and get a cool, expense-paid summer trip to Canada every year.

However, the Republican National Committee, eyeing these job plums, got its political wires
so badly crossed that a Chicago lawyer was appointed to the wrong commission, then the governor of Idaho was named prematurely to the job the lawyer was supposed to get.

The resulting mixup violated: 1, a 1909 treaty with Canada; 2, a presidential order dating back to 1873.

It all began when Republican months started watering for the patronage plum held by octogen-arian A. O. Stanley, ex-senator from Kentucky, who was chairman of the International Joint Commission for the past 20 years.

Illinois' curly-haired Sen. Everett Dirksen, a backstage power at the GOP National Committee, proposed Chicago lawyer Samuel Golan for the post.

At this point, the committee got its first wire crossed and sent Gol-an's name to the White House to be named, not to the International Joint Commission, but the International Boundary Commission.
This is a different commission altogether, having to do, not with Canadian-U. S. rivers and waterways, but marking and maintaining the Canadian-U. S. boundary.

Not only did the GOP committee pick the wrong commission, but there was no vacancy. Furthermore, the treaty with Canada specified that the post must go to a qualified engineer. A Chicago lawyer wouldn't do.

BUFFALO BACKFIRES
The White House solved the first problem by firing Chairman John Ulinski and creating a vacancy.
Ulinski promptly went home to Buffalo, N. Y., took over Democrat Steven Pankow's campaign for mayor and roundly defeated the Republican candidate.

Meanwhile, the White House simply ignored the 1909 treaty and appointed lawyer Golan to fill the engineering post—regardless of the treaty. All this meanwhile upset
New York GOP politicians who had their eye on Ulinski's job on the boundary commission until Golan of Chicago slid into it by mistake.

By this time, old Senator Stanley was forewarned that the Republicans were after his job on the joint commission. Snorting defiance, he drew up a legal brief, claiming he couldn't be fired from this quasi-judicial post.

Undismayed, a host of candidates, including former Sens.
Owen Brewster of Maine and Ray Willis of Indiana, were running hard for the job. The one who came out on top was Idaho's Gov.
Len Jordan.

Under Idaho law, Jordan couldn't succeed himself as governor and was casting about for a new job. There was always the risk that he might try for the Senate, challenging Sen. Henry Dworshak
in the GOP primary.

This spurred Dworshak into hustling up another job for the governor, and the joint commission chairmanship looked promising.
To make it even more attractive,
the White House upped the pay from $10,600, which the Democrats had paid, to $13,500.

After considerable backstage wire-tugging, Governor Jordan won the appointment last week. He was voiced from Ethel Martin.

told that he could finish his term as governor and hold down the joint commission chairmanship at the same time.

Then somebody brought up the 1873 order, which prohibits a federal official from holding a state position—simultaneously. Since President Grant had signed the original order, it was argued, there was no reason why President Eisenhower couldn't revoke it.

It was pointed out, however, that like's own Treasury Department had cited this same 1873 order recently to deny a customs collector appointment to Herman Grannis—on the grounds he was serving as an unpaid member of the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

The White House finally got around its embarrassment by removing Governor Jordan from the joint commission 24 hours after he was installed and holding the post open for him for another six months until his term as governor expires.

Note — Meanwhile, the 1909 treaty with Canada continues to be violated by the continued appointment of lawyer Golan on the International Boundary Commission.

JUNIOR MISS OF CONGRESS
One of the youngest persons ever to occupy a seat in Congress sat beside her grandmother on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day. She was Miss Judy Harden, aged eight, granddaughter of the pleasant congresswoman from Indiana, Mrs. Cecil Harden.

Judy, refreshing sight in the drab halls of Congress, followed the congressional debate with interest, though she did wipe the sleep out of her eyes during an old-fashioned dharanguing by orator Martin Dies of Texas.

Congress was pushing through legislation at the usual pace when the heat is heavy in Washington and the legislators itch for the tall grass of the home districts. But despite the rush, the solons couldn't help but notice the little girl in the beige dress with cuffed sleeves and black sash sitting demurely beside the representative from Indiana.

Charlie Halleck, efficient leader of the Eisenhower forces, also from Indiana, marched past the two ladies, his mind on other things; then, noticing the couple, marched back to present himself. Judy extended her hand as a queen holding court.

Then Javits of New York walked by, stopped to chat with the youngest "member." Once Judy picked up a pile of her grandmother's papers almost as if she was about to make a speech, then put them down and continued listening to the drone of debate by which American laws are passed.

Rev. Kennedy and Family Return Home After 5 Years as Missionaries to India

Mrs. Claude L. Rew, who resides on South Main street, had as guests
last week, her nephew and family,
the Rev. and Mrs. George T. Kennedy, at home for a year, after five years as missionaries to India.
They were sent out to Kanpur, India, by the Methodist Board of Missions.

Arriving in New York, May 11,
the Kennedys and Mrs. Rew went to the home of his sister, Mrs.
Clyde A. Hodgendobler, at Villa Ridge, where the five brothers and one sister in the Kennedy family met together with their families for the first time in 15 years.

Attending the centennial at Mound City, their old home, they went in a group, 21 strong, Sunday to attend services at the Congregational church, where they had all attended Sunday school regularly in childhood. Mrs. W. F. Kennedy, their stepmother, and Mrs. Rew were in the group.

One evening was spent by the families in examining the gifts and curios brought from India by the missionaries. Beautiful brass candle holders, a bowl to match, ivory, native dolls, beautiful stoles, prayer rugs etc. were exhibited, and some of the national costumes were modelled by the girls and by the Rev. Kennedy.

He related the excitement occasioned when he shot a leopard, the skin of which had been made into a rug that they brought home with them. The leopard, or panther, as it is called in Indiana had hidden in the Indian girls' school, just outside the missionary's compound, and effort to force it out by turning a fire hose on it and by probing with poles into its lair, merely enraged the beast, which was only six feet from the missionary, who was summoned to bring a gun and kill it, when his bullet hit the mark, piercing the center of the top of its head and killing the big cat with one shot.

Asked if he was frightened, the missionary said, "It happened too suddenly for that."

Those attending the family assembly were the Rev. and Mrs.
George T. Kennedy and children,
Johnnie and Linda Kay, Kanpur, India. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy and children, Jay Thomas and Judith Ann, Fairbury, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Kennedy and children, Richard Lee, and Kay Frances, Springfield, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Kennedy and daughter, Barbara Sue, Champaign, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hogendobler, and Kenneth and Charles Loid Hogendobler, Villa Ridge, James F. Kennedy, Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. W.
T. Kennedy, Mound City, and Mrs.
Claude L. Rew, Harrisburg.

The missionary and his family have returned to New York.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Ella Harper who passed away July 5, 1953. Just one year ago yesterday, one we loved was called away. Our hearts were sad when she had to go. Life seems so empty, we miss her so.

Lonelier we get as the days go by. So many times, we just sit and cry. 'Twas the middle of the night, 'he the death angel came, It seemed we could hear it whisper her name. With a smile on her face, she just went to sleep. All we could do, was stand there and weep.

I miss her so, around the home, In this world, I feel so all alone. And when the children come home, They say it's so hard to bear. She's not there to greet them in her old wicker chair.

But the time will come, in the sweet by and by, We will all be together, in that home on high. Sadly missed by W. E. Harper and children. 7-1

Women Pilots

Ending 2,000 Mile Flight at Knoxville

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — The late arrivals in the 2,000-mile women's transcontinental air race swooped down on the Knoxville airport today with the deadline for the flight from Long Beach, Calif., only hours away.

Twenty-two of the 51 flying ladies who left Long Beach Saturday in an assortment of light planes had already reached their goal in this eighth annual flight—nicknamed the "Powder Puff Derby."

Among those who just made it before dark Monday—the girls are not permitted to fly at night—was Nancy Moore, Ashburn, Va., and copilot Barbara Jenison, wife of editor Edward H. Jenison of the Paris (Ill.) Beacon-News.

Various mishaps, none of them fatal, put four planes out of the running. Of the rest, 17 were to leave Chattanooga, Tenn., 88 miles away, today with seven departing from Memphis, Tenn., and one taking off from Ft. Smith, Ark.

The time of their arrival, so long as the feminine flyers complete the flight by 4 p. m. CST, today, won't figure in deciding the winner. The pilots race on a handicap basis in which the handicap is figured against the elapsed flight time.

Anna Presents
Key to City
To Cartoonist

ANNA, Ill.—UP—Anna wound up its centennial celebration Monday by presenting a key to the city to one of its most famous native sons, Frank Willard, the cartoonist who draws the comic strip "Moon Mullins."

After a two-hour parade through his home town, Willard accepted the key and admitted he was "honored, flattered and scared" by the ceremony. Then he told the crowd he plans to retire in about five years and come back here from Los Angeles where he now lives.

The four-day centennial celebration opened Friday with the arrival of a group of persons who traveled by covered wagon over a portion of the route along the Ohio River followed by Anna's original settlers from North Carolina.

A cast of 200 presented a pageant Friday night which traced the city's history from 1854 to the present.

Illinois Power Gets Rate Increase

SPRINGFIELD—UP—The Illinois Commerce Commission today granted Illinois Power Co. a $3,398,000 annual increase in its rates for electricity, gas and steam heat.

The boost is $1,882,000 less than the utility sought in a petition which was bitterly contested in ICC hearings. The ICC authorized the firm to hike its rates immediately.

Affected are 310,000 electricity customers in 447 towns, 155,000 gas users in 53 towns, and 1,600 steam heating customers in Decatur, Danville, Bloomington, Galesburg, Champaign and Urbana.

Cities which opposed the petition included Belleville, Bend, Champaign, Danville, Decatur, DePue, Egerville, Edwardsburg, Gillespie, Granite City, Kewanee, LaSalle, Litchfield, Madison, Mount Clare, Mount Vernon, Oquawka, Spring Valley, Staunton, Urbana, Vandalia, White City, and Wilsonville.

Earthquake Shakes Nevada, California
The quake cut off the city's power supply for several hours. It was accompanied by a pronounced rumbling noise described by residents in both Fallon and Stockton, Calif., as being like "a jet plane passing overhead."

The quake, registered as being of 6.75-7 magnitude on the Richter Scale by a University of California seismograph at Berkeley, was apparently centered in Fallon, 60 miles southeast of Reno and 270 miles northeast of San Francisco. Sleeping residents were awakened and dishes rattled throughout a large part of western Nevada and northern California but the only serious damage was reported in the immediate Fallon area.

In California, the quake was most noticeable in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. Sheriff's offices throughout the valley said they had no immediate reports of damage, other than dishes tumbling from cupboards in a few places.

Sen. Knowland Believes Congress Will Make July 31 Adjournment Goal

By United Press
Congress was slow in resuming business after the Fourth of July weekend but leaders were confident it has a good chance of finishing its work July 31. Both houses met at noon on routine business. But Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) was confident the legislators would pick up enough speed to meet the adjournment goal and still make a good record of bills passed.

Barring unforeseen developments, he said, "I think it should be ready to make it by July 31." Knowland also predicted "a good batting average" on President Eisenhower's legislative program by adjournment time. The President has said the record of accomplishment on this program will be a major issue in the fall congressional elections.

Other late news:
Red China: Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) conferred with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on ways of keeping Red China out of the United Nations. He said Dulles

Code: An enforceable code of fair play was urged for congressional investigating committees by spokesmen for the Americans for Democratic Action, the American Jewish Congress, the Friends Committee on National Legislation, the American Veterans Committee and the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The spokesmen testified before a Senate subcommittee, considering proposed new investigative rules.

Reds: The Senate Judiciary Committee approved a bill to give the government new powers against "Communist-infiltrated organizations." The administration asked authority to liquidate any such organization. But the committee bill would not deny existence to a Red-infiltrated group, it would require it to identify itself as a Communist organization in its publications or broadcasts. Red labor unions would be stripped of bargaining rights until they got rid of Communist influence.

Reds in army: Two World War II members of the Army Information and Education Service refused to tell the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee anything about their possible Communist connections. They are Richard L. Criley of Chicago and Luke Woodrow Wilson of Wellfleet, Mass. Each invoked the Fifth Amendment. The subcommittee has heard testimony that the Information and Education Service distributed subversive information for use in troop indoctrination.

Adjournment: The House is further along with its work than the Senate and is more impatient to adjourn because all of its 435 seats are at stake in the fall elections. The foreign aid appropriation bill is the only major business still facing the House. So whether Congress meets the July 31 adjournment goal depends almost wholly on the Senate.

Truman May Leave Hospital in 9 Days
KANAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—A cheerful Harry S. Truman looked forward today to leaving Research Hospital in about nine days. Doctors attending the former president said he is recovering steadily from the effects of a double operation and is definitely out of danger.

The chief attending doctor, Wallace Graham, said Mr. Truman, 70, has "been resting well and his appetite is good." Barring complications, he said, Mr. Truman should be able to go home in nine days.

The predicted end of his hospital stay appeared to buoy up Mr. Truman's spirits. He spent two hours out of bed Monday, walking about his air conditioned room and even giving himself a manicure.

Eisenhower Return from Week End in Mountains
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House today after a long Fourth of July weekend at his mountain retreat near here.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower left Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains at about 7 a. m. CST and completed the 60-mile drive at 8:35 a. m. CST. They had planned to return Monday but remained another day to avoid the holiday traffic.

Mr. Eisenhower plunged almost immediately into a heavy work schedule. He was scheduled to hear a report from Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Producers Association, on his special mission to the Near East.

Her funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Fairview church and will be conducted by the Rev. John Smoot. The body lies in state at the family residence.

Also surviving are a son, Wayne Anderson, at Camp Carson, Colo.; a daughter, Zetta, at home, and two married daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, Detroit, and Mrs. Dorothy Jane Zimmers, Gary, Ind.

First Annual July Fourth Celebration Held by Eldorado-Raleigh Park District

The first annual Fourth of July celebration, sponsored by the Eldorado-Raleigh Park district, held at Karel park, was termed a success today and plans are already underway to make next year's celebration a bigger and better one.

"We hope to eliminate this year's mistakes in future planning," an official stated today. People began gathering during the morning hours, with free bus service from both Eldorado and Raleigh.

Throughout the day there was entertainment by two string bands and "old fashioned fiddling" by the Mills family. String bands present were the Lloyd Brothers' 5-piece band and Pappy Witherspoon's band with Lula Belle and Ray Duke.

A patriotic program, from a bunting-draped stand, was held at 2 p. m. with James Gwaltney of Harrisburg, State Adjutant of the American Legion, as principal speaker.

Mr. Gwaltney explained the Americanism program of the American Legion and stressed the need for an anti-Communism law in Illinois. E. H. Webster was master of ceremonies for the program, which included the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, led by Atty. George Lee and a program of gospel singing by Rev. John Henshaw and the Gospel Singers from Raleigh.

The day-long program closed with a big fireworks display over the reservoir. "We want to offer a program that will make it possible for people in this area to celebrate the Fourth in a safe and sane way and will welcome suggestions for improving the program," it was stated today by a park district official.

Oklahoma Guard Polices Primary in Hot Senate Race
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Khaki-clad troopers and plainclothesmen stood guard in five counties today as Oklahoma Democrats chose between two oil millionaires seeking the senatorial nomination.

Gov. Johnston Murray imposed martial law on five eastern counties and called out 200 National Guardsmen to enforce it in today's primary to prevent "gross violation of election laws."

He also took steps to prevent "ballot burnings." The primary was dominated by the bitter battle between incumbent Senator Robert S. Kerr and his foremost challenger, former governor Roy J. Turner. The race between the two, both oil millionaires, was expected to be so close that a July 27 runoff vote may be necessary.

An estimated 500,000 Oklahomans were expected also to pick candidates for 17 statewide races, the state Legislature and local offices. Sixteen Democrats vied for the gubernatorial nomination in the top state race.

Assessment List

Herewith is a list of real estate and personal property assessments as made by the township assessor of Mountain township and returned to PAUL HILLIARD, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments of Saline County, Illinois.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Saline County Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under Provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the per centage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full, fair cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extension for 1954 taxes, payable in 1955, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed values as made by the local assessment officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayers of the County of assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors.

American League Announces All-Star Squad

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League today announced its 25-man squad for the July 13 All-Star game with the National League at Cleveland, and what Manager Casey Stengel will have on the bench could win most World Series.

The fans named the starting lineups for both leagues, except for pitchers, and Stengel, running the American League show for the fifth year, scrupulously picked two pitchers from each of the three leading clubs—the Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox and his own New York Yankees—plus standouts of two second division clubs. He departed slightly from expectations in filling reserve spots at two fielding posts.

To de-power the bats of such as Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and the St. Louis Cardinal's Stan Musial on the National squad, Stengel can select hurlers from a mound staff of Ed (Whitey) Ford and foxy old Allie Reynolds of the Yanks; Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of the Indians; Virgil Trucks and Bob Keegan of the White Sox; Bob Turley of the Baltimore Orioles and Bob Plea of the Washington Nationals.

Runners-Up Bypassed

At other spots, the all-important bench whose depth often means the victory margin in the annual "dream game," just as it does in a long campaign, the American League passed up runners-up in voting in which 4,272,470 fans participated through newspapers and radio stations, according to the Chicago Tribune, which counted the votes.

In center field, where the fans voted the Yanks' Mickey Mantle into starting spot, Larry Doby of Cleveland was named in reserve, passing up Detroit's young Bill Tuttle. For reserve catcher, Stengel behind his own Yogi Berra will have the White Sox' Sherm Lollar, although Lollar ranked below Jim Heggen of Cleveland and Detroit's Frank House.

Back of starting first baseman Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians, Stengel has Ferris Fain of the Chicago White Sox, two-time American League batting champion.

At second base, to back up Cleveland's Bobby Avila, is little Nellie Fox, the take-charge peppercorn of the White Sox.

Harvey Kuenn of Detroit is short-stop insurance for starter Chico Carrasquel.

Ray Boone At Third

A veteran of the American League, Ray Boone of the Detroit Tigers, will return to his former home ground next Tuesday and on the bench as a capable replacement will be the Philadelphia Athletics' third baseman, Jim Finnigan.

George Kell of the White Sox also was picked but it was possible that an injury incurred in the Cleveland series will sideline him.

In the outfield, after the starting trio of Minnie Minoso of the White Sox, Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer of the Yankees, Stengel can call on Ted Williams and Jim Piersall of the Boston Red Sox and Doby.

Stengel rounded out the American League squad by naming Fred Hutchinson, Detroit Tigers manager, and Marty Marion, White Sox coach, as coaches. Duane Pillette of Baltimore and Alex Kellner of the Athletics as batting practice pitchers, and Bob Swift of the Tigers as batting practice catcher.

Wally Bock of Cleveland was named trainer.

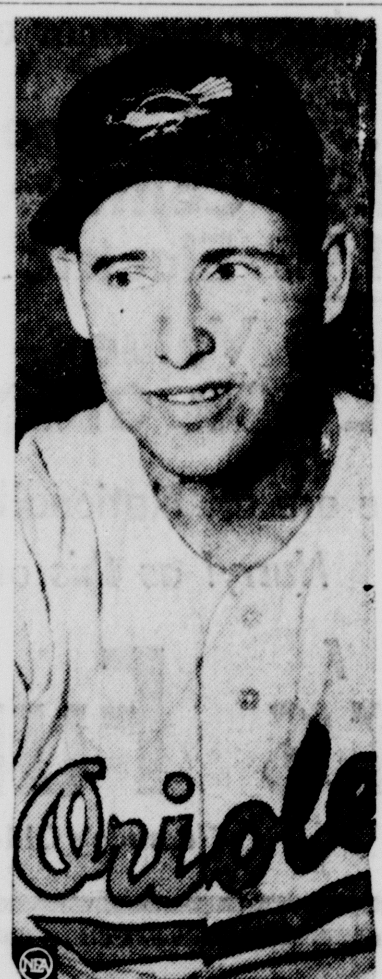

Senator McCarthy Returns from Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was back in town today after a vacation of about two and a half weeks.

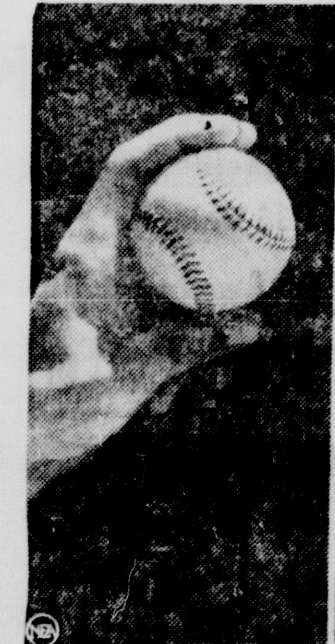

His staff said he returned to Washington Monday night and was expected at his office later today.

McCarthy left Washington June 18 after the Army-McCarthy hearings ended. Where he spent his vacation was a minor mystery—even his office staff knew.

"The Indian and the Panther," by Henry Kirke Brown, was the first bronze sculpture to be cast in the United States.

Giants, Indians Maintain 3 1-2 Game Leads

The Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants safely passed the Independence Day milestone with 3½ game leads today, but who could breathe easily with those perennial pennant winners, the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, in such hot pursuit?

No one realized more than Managers Al Lopez and Leo Durocher how precarious was the road ahead for their league leaders and just how unreliable is the myth that the clubs which lead the leagues on July 4 eventually go on to meet in the World Series.

The Indians and Giants gained their present leads as a result of terrific June winning streaks. And they knew well how those leads could be wiped out in a matter of days.

Indians' Lead Cut

The Indians lost one game of their lead Monday by splitting a double-header against the Detroit Tigers, while the world champions swept a twin bill against the Philadelphia As, 7-4 and 11-2. The Indians won the opener, 13-6, with the help of Billy Glynn's three homers but lost the nightcap, 1-0, on Harvey Kuenn's 11th inning homer.

In the National League, the Giants had to win both games from the Philadelphia Phillies, 10-0 and 4-3, in order to preserve their lead over the Dodgers, who likewise swept the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-6 and 7-2. The Milwaukee Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6 and 10-4, and the Cincinnati Reds edged the Chicago Cubs, 6-5 in 10 innings and 8-7.

The Chicago White Sox twice bounced the Baltimore Orioles, 3-0 and 2-1, while the Washington Senators split with the Boston Red Sox, winning the nightcap, 7-1, after losing the opener, 14-0.

Merchants Split Holiday Games

Lose 7-4 Tilt to Carterville, Win 8-6 at Thebes Monday

The Harrisburg Merchants gained an even split in a pair of holiday games, dropping their tilt to the Carterville Stars, 7-4, and winning from Thebes, 8-6.

Gene Trammel and Bill Treat of Carterville locked up in a hurlers' duel Sunday afternoon for six innings until the Merchants' defense faltered. Trammel entered the sixth frame with a one-hitter going and a 2-1 lead when Carterville overtook the Merchants on an error and a misjudged fly ball which went for a homer. The Stars were never headed then and stayed off a ninth inning rally by some nice clutch pitching by Treat. Willis and Kennedy relieved for the Merchants in the eighth and ninth to blank the Stars for the last two frames.

Tom Dunbar returned to the lineup with a bang by blasting out a homer over the centerfield lagoon, a double and a single and batting in three of the four Merchant runs. Monday the locals made the long trip to Thebes and ending their long win drought by nipping the Greyhounds, 8-6. Bill McNew chalked up his fourth win of the season by limiting the Greyhounds to six safeties as the Merchants got the long ball at the right moment.

Freddie Williams gave McNew a three run margin in the opening frame with a bases loaded triple only to have the Greyhounds tally in their half on a homer by Aldridge, the Thebes third sacker. The fourth frame was third best effort when they took a two run lead on three hits, a base on balls and the Merchants' lone error of the contest.

The Merchants struck back to knot the count in the fifth and sixth. In the fifth Ronnosky singled and rode home on Logsdon's double, and in the sixth Hay tallied on Ronnosky's triple, Gully and Fred Bynum paired three base blows and after Thebes notched another tally in their seventh for a 6-6 tie, Jim Parton hit a round trip blow with a mate aboard to ice the game.

Aldridge, Thebes first baseman, came up with several plays to hold down the visitors' score and Lou Elms, the locals' left fielder, hauled down a drive with runners on base to pull McNew out of a jam in the seventh. Ronnosky caught both games for the Merchants.

Next Sunday the Merchants go to East St. Louis to engage a semi-pro club from that city and more information will be released later in the week on that game.

Large Crowd Attends Stock Car Program and Fireworks Display

The largest crowd of the season at the Saline County Speedway saw a good program of racing and big fireworks display Monday night. There were two multi-car crashes—one three and one four—plus a complete turn over to spice the program and give the fans plenty of thrills.

In the second heat two cars left the track on the west curve, one of the cars doing a complete turn over. In the fourth heat three cars got together on the west curve and three wreckers were called into service to get them apart.

Cars involved were the Green 7, driven by Leonard Grisham, P38 driven by Sam Brinkley and HG2 driven by Bill Fulkerson. In the mixup the Green 7 climbed up the P38, crashed the trunk and one front wheel was in the front seat of the P38. However no one was injured.

Four cars hooked up and crashed through the fence across from the grandstand in the semi-feature. The slam-bang program reduced the original field of 17 cars to only nine by feature-racing time.

Racing officials announced last night that in the future racing at the local speedway will be on Monday nights instead of Saturday as in the past.

Results: Time trials, Johnny Myers, Decatur, in the 26; Sam Brinkley in the P-38 and Phil Trammel in the Gassy 1, Time, 18.07.

First heat, Phil Trammel, Johnny Myers and Floyd Barnes in the HB5.

Second heat, Bob Cletcher in the 702, Jim Alexander in the 6 and Leonard Grisham in the 7B Jr.

Handicap, (team race), Sam Brinkley, Henry Hancock and Jerry Brinkley, defeated Johnny Myers, Glen Gibbs and Phil Trammel.

Fourth heat, Johnny Myers, Jerry Brinkley and Lyles Caper in the 805.

Semi-feature, Johnny Myers, Phil Trammel and Jerry Brinkley.

Feature, Johnny Myers, Phil Trammel and Glen Gibbs.

Saturday night twelve cars participated in the events and put on a good program despite the fact the drivers knew they were not racing for money. They had agreed to donate their services to help the association meet some of its obligations.

By time of the feature seven were left and Gill Wargel of Equality won the 15-lap event in an interesting race in which Wargel and Phil Trammel duelled all the way with Wargel staying in front.

The results:

Heat I: Trammel in the Gassy 1, Bill Fulkerson in the HG 2, Leonard Grisham in the 7B Jr.

Heat II: Floyd Barnes in the HB5, Bob Cletcher in the 702, Ed die Hancock in the K-7.

Heat III: Glen Gibbs in the 97, Hancock in the K-7, Grisham in the 7B Jr.

Heat IV: Wargel in the 65, Rance Vineyard in the Oh-Oh, Jim Alexander in the 6.

Tag race: Cletcher in the 702, Trammel in the Gassy 1.

Australian Pursuit: Hancock in the K-7, Alexander in the 6.

Feature: Wargel in the 65, Trammel in the Gassy 1, Barnes in the HB-5, Cletcher in the 702, Grisham in the 7B Jr.

Kiwanis Baseball Schools are Well Attended

The Kiwanis baseball schools being conducted each Wednesday and Saturday are still being well attended and youths attending seem to be getting much out of the school.

On Saturday outfield and bunting sessions were held, plus two short games, with about 40 boys participating.

Bunting contests were held with Donnie Biggs, Ronnie Maynard, Bob Pavelonis and Bill Webb winning prizes for laying down the most accurate bunts.

Next session will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

In the near future a baseball field day will be held.
